INSTALLATION

LAYING OUT THE PANELS

The panels of the Designer Surround for H Series are made to fit against the fireplace opening and each other.

First, hold a metal panel up to the lower edge of the fireplace and mark the wall with a light pencil line along the lower edge of the metal panel(s). Then draw a straight line parallel to the right edge of the fireplace opening at the distance shown below as appropriate for your surround model. The intersection of these two lines is the starting point for the installation.

INSTALLATION: WALL LAYOUT

The metal panels and tile panels should be applied to the wall in the order shown below.

INSTALLATION: WALL LAYOUT + Z-CLIPS

NOTE ABOUT Z-CLIPS

Z-clips installed on the wall should have the interlocking side facing up. The slotted side of the clips face the wall. The length of the clips is to account for contact with the existing wall stud behind the wall sheeting. Mount the Z-clips to studs only.

Z-CLIP INSTALLATION PREP - REFER TO GRAPHICS ON PAGES 10-11

- Use a stud-finder to mark the stud locations above, below, and flanking the fireplace within the relevant area you will be installing the surround. Screw into these locations for structural integrity. Note, you can drill into the fireplace cabinet using 3/4" self tapping screws.
- The included z-clips should exceed 16" slightly. Holes are predrilled to 16" to line up with the rule of 16" on center. There should be center drilled holes as well.
- Before sinking the second screw, make sure you level the clip off along the guideline.
