MIDDLETON, Mass. - May 15, 2018 - European Home, manufacturer of European Home fireplaces and the exclusive North American distributor of Element4 and Focus Fires, has hired Chris Weiner to join the team as the Sales Representative for the East Coast.

Chris has always gravitated towards the unique, high-end product world, so when he had a chance to work with European Home and their line of luxury fireplaces he said “it felt good to say yes.” He is now entering his 4th year in the hearth industry and loves the thoughtful process of selling high quality, high performance products and working with customers who understand and value great items in their home. “Selling at a design level is very exciting. Knowing my input makes an impact on the design of a home is what drives me.”

When asked what Chris was most excited about in his new position, he said “working for a company with the best reputation for products and service. Holly Markham [President and Founder of European Home] has built an amazing company that promotes individual thinkers, positive attitude, and a strong teamwork environment.”

Outside of work, Chris enjoys bonding with his wife and four children. “I love to cook and bake with my kids. We always end up laughing, and that is the best part!”
